The Department of Criminal Justice and Legal Studies offers students the option of studying in three separate degree programs: Criminal Justice, Legal Studies and Law.

Students interested in the area of law enforcement, corrections, and juvenile justice may pursue one of two degree options available in the criminal justice program:

1. An associate of science degree with a major in Criminal Justice or;
2. A bachelor of science degree with a major in Criminal Justice with a general concentration or a concentration in legal studies.

Students interested in the area of law may pursue a Bachelor of Science degree with a major in Law.

Students interested in working in the legal profession may major in the paralegal program. Missouri Western's Paralegal Program is a voting member of the American Association for Paralegal Education. In addition, the program is approved by the American Bar Association. In the program, students may pursue a course of study leading to an associate of science degree with a major in Legal Assistant, a certificate, a B.S. Degree in Criminal Justice with a concentration in legal studies, or a B.S. Degree in Law.

The Department offers a Graduate Certificate and a Masters of Applied Science in Forensic Investigations. The Certificate and M.A.S. are designed to provide individuals the opportunity to receive instructions from eminent forensic scientists and other distinguished professionals as well as department faculty. Several forensic investigation courses are available to undergraduates as well. These courses and degrees are of particular interest to professionals and students interested in a career in crime scene investigation. For more information contact your advisor, the department, or go to our graduate website at (<http://catalog.missouriwestern.edu/undergraduate/business-professional-studies/criminal-justice-legal-studies/www.missouriwestern.edu/graduate/programs/forensic-investigation/>) missouriwestern.edu/criminal-justice-legal-studies/forensic-investigation/ (<https://www.missouriwestern.edu/criminal-justice-legal-studies/forensic-investigation/>).

Criminal Justice and Legal Studies

The criminal justice program seeks to prepare students for entry into or advancement within the criminal justice profession in any of the many areas existing within the career field or for graduate studies in a related field. Such areas include:

- Juvenile justice agencies: Division of Youth Services, Juvenile Court, Missouri Department of Social Services (Most juvenile justice agencies presently require a degree in a related area.)

- Investigative agencies: Federal, state, county and local agencies, including private investigative agencies.
- Conservation agencies: These agencies enforce wildlife regulations.
- Correctional agencies: Institutions and probation/parole systems within federal, state and county governmental.
- Industrial security: Corporate interests nationwide.
- Legal profession: Corporate, private, government agency, and public interest law offices.

Legal Studies

The Legal Studies Program offers a course of study designed to prepare the individual to work in the evolving paralegal profession. A student in this program will be taught the skills needed to obtain an entry level position as a paralegal. The skills the student will learn include legal research, interviewing, investigation, legal drafting, preparation of evidence and witnesses for trial, and assisting in the trial of a lawsuit.

This program prepares individuals for career opportunities in small law firms, large law firms of fifty attorneys or more, legal departments of banks, insurance companies, land title insurance companies and other corporations, legal aid offices, public defender offices, the office of the prosecuting attorney, and municipal legal departments.

Paralegals are not legally permitted to practice law. Only attorneys, who are licensed in the state by the state Supreme Court, can practice law.

To graduate from the program students must:

- Satisfactorily complete all courses required in the program;
- Perform legal research and analysis by using legal research material;
- Draft and prepare legal documents;
- Identify and explain the various functions performed by a paralegal;
- Explain the role of the paralegal working in a law office;
- Identify ethical issues, rules and standards that a paralegal must follow when working under an attorney's supervision (a paralegal's conduct is expected to conform to these ethical standards);
- Perform the functions of a paralegal under the supervision of a practicing attorney.

Legal Assistant Certificate

The specialized Legal Assistant Certificate program enables students to focus on the technical, legal specialty courses that will enable them to work as paralegal. The program is designed for the student who has already earned a substantial number of college credits, or a college degree, and by reason of education and experience, only needs selected courses to round out their education.

Entrance Requirements

Students must have earned at least 30 college credits prior to enrolling in the program. Eighteen of these hours must be general education elective credits. General education is defined as post-secondary courses in the following areas:

1. language and composition,
