PSYCHOLOGY (PSY)

PSY 509 Principles of Behavior Therapy Credits: 3
Typically Offered: Spring.
Course Description: The application of behavioral principles to human problems.

PSY 535 Learning and Memory Credits: 3
Typically Offered: Fall.
Course Description: Major theories and applications of learning and memory in contemporary psychology.

PSY 550 Graduate Research Credits: 1-5
Typically Offered: Fall, Spring, Summer.
Course Description: Graduate Research.

PSY 570 Child Psychopathology and Social Dynamics Credits: 3
Typically Offered: Spring.
Course Description: An overview of childhood disorders and the group and personal dynamics they create within broad social systems. Includes discussion of the psychology of self-care for individuals who live and work with this population.